

Grégoire OLIVIER
Chief Operating Officer
China (Interim, in charge of DPCA)

Grégoire Olivier was appointed Chief Operating Officer for China (in charge of DPCA) and a member of Stellantis' Top Executive Team in January 2021.

He has held a variety of operational responsibilities in the industrial sector for twenty years before joining PSA in 2006.

He started as a civil servant in the French Ministry of Industry in 1984, and was appointed advisor to the Prime Minister for Industry and Environment in 1990.

From 1992 to 1998, he worked for Pechiney, first as General Manager of Aluminium of Greece, then from 1995 as Chicago plant manager and subsequently Vice President of American National Can.

From 1998 to 2000, he was head of the Electronics Division then General Manager of the Battery manufacturer SAFT.

He was appointed CEO of the electronics company SAGEM in 2001, becoming SAFRAN in 2006.

Grégoire Olivier entered PSA in 2006, as CEO of Faurecia. He joined the PSA Executive Committee as SVP Programs and Strategy in 2007 and moved to China in 2010 as SVP China and South East Asia. In 2016, he was named SVP Mobility Services, and became General Secretary for Groupe PSA in 2018, in addition to supervising Chinese activities from April 2020 onwards.

Grégoire Olivier, a graduate of Ecole Polytechnique (France), holds an engineering degree from Ecole des Mines de Paris and an MBA from the University of Chicago.